

VIRGINIA MASON MEDICAL CENTER SAC

UPDATED JUNE 13, 2018

LARRY BROUSE

Mr. Brouse has been the Chief Operating Officer at St. James Cathedral since 1995. He also was the chair of the Harborview Medical Center SAC from 2004-2016. He is actively involved in development projects which have an effect upon First Hill. Before coming to St. James Cathedral, he had a background for 20 years in Finance, Construction, and Real Estate Development.

Issues that particularly concern him are the shortage of work force housing in the area and the aesthetics and functionality of additions to the Virginia Mason campus. He has also been a patient at Virginia Mason for over 25 years.

JAMES KIRKPATRICK

Mr. Kirkpatrick and his wife reside in Seattle's First Hill neighborhood for the past 23 years. He has been a member of The Gainsborough Condominium Owners Association's (COA) Board for 22 years, President for 13 years, and a member of the First Hill Improvement Association (FHIA) for over 18 years. Mr. Kirkpatrick's greatest interest is in preserving as much of First Hill's original 'character' as possible. First Hill has its own unique 'place' in the city of Seattle.

Mr. Kirkpatrick retired from IBM 20 years ago, after serving in the Navy. His 30 + year long career at IBM involved the development, marketing, and installation of large computer systems for clients – such as Boeing. Mr. Kirkpatrick has a BS in Marketing from San Jose State University and an MBA from the Santa Clara University.

TED KLAINER

Capital Project Manager at Harborview.

TERRY MILLER (VICE-CHAIR)

Ms. Miller lives on First Hill in a condominium and has since 2007. She recently served on a two year task force to complete the RCW re-write for the Real Estate License Dept. She also served as a member of the "Puget Sound Clean Air Advisory Board".

Ms. Miller is a 31 year Realtor and self-employed with her business being Seattle and King Co based. She is a top-producer and works full time selling Residential Real Estate. She serves on the State Board as well as the National Board of Realtors as a volunteer. She recently served on the Mayor's HALA as a task force volunteer for affordable housing. She is very interested in First Hill and all of Seattle as well as King Co issues. Finally, Terry brings her Real Estate acumen to a volunteer position at HomeSight, a non-profit community development corp. located in southeastern Seattle where she serves on their Board of Directors.

SARA MCVEY

Ms. McVey lives and works in First Hill. As CEO of Horizon House, a dynamic, nonprofit retirement community dedicated to dignified aging, life fulfillment, and service to the broader community, she advocates for the wants and needs of more than 500 residents and 300 staff members. Ms. McVey is a Board member of the First Hill Improvement Association (FHIA), and involved in a women's group at the Washington Athletic Club who supports the Freeway Park Association, Plymouth House, and a myriad of other organizations in Seattle.

Her background is in senior living operations with a strong dose of marketing and sales. During her tenure in Chicago, she was involved in several large scale projects, including new construction and expansions of existing properties where land marking and zoning restrictions were at play.

ROBERT SEPLER

Mr. Sepler has lived in Seattle for most of the last decade. For the last four years, he has lived across the street from the Virginia Mason Medical Center and walks through the Virginia Mason campus every day on his way to work. Given his close proximity to Virginia Mason, Mr. Sepler's interest in serving on the committee stems from his desire to help maintain the quality of residential life on First Hill while still giving Virginia Mason the flexibility it needs to continue its excellent work. Mr. Sepler is an attorney that works predominately in municipal law. He currently consults with local governments across the state as a Legal Consultant with the Municipal Research and Services Center (MRSC).

WARD WRIGHT

Mr. Wright has been a First Hill resident since 1994 and lives at the Old Colony Condominium where he also serves on the board. He is part the development team at Neighborhood House, who serves all of King County residents with services designed to break the cycles of poverty, working donors to help support our rich immigrant and refugee populations. He is a member of the First Hill Improvement Association (FHIA)

Prior to joining Neighborhood House Mr. Wright was in hotel management for over 30 years. Originally from San Jose he went to school in New York, and has lived in Los Angeles, Laguna Beach, and the Florida Keys before realizing that Seattle is home.
